March Section Meeting

Dale Brentrup, AIA, IESNA

Professor of Architecture

Director, Daylighting + Energy Performance Lab
College of Architecture, University of North Carolina - Charlotte

March 18, 2008 11:45 - 1:00 - Sawtooth Center
1 HSW Credit

Free Lights! Dale is presenting a talk entitled, "Capturing the Daylight Dividend - Integrating Laboratory Methods into Practice." We are the designers; he is the researcher exploring the use of daylight in buildings. Come and find out what he has learned, and see how we can benefit.

Catering by Sakura Steak and Seafood

Small Practice Lunch and Learn

March 13, 2008, 11:45-1:00

823 Reynolda (Blessings Project)

The fourth installment of our program for smaller firms will be an HSW presentation by Baker Roofing and Styro Systems on Hydrotech Garden Roofs. Details are forwarded to the small practice group.

RSVP to david.wright@cjmw.com by March 11.

Section News:

Architects are Artists

Since we had a good response, it looks like we will hold a gallery showing of Art by Architects in September. We are in discussion with the Piedmont Section to have this as a combined event – possibly showing in G-Boro in May. Please e-mail Joe Bircher and let him know of your interest: job@wrp.com

Educate, Advocate, Promote

AIA Winston-Salem is sponsoring an info table at the Piedmont Earth Day Fair. We will need help to plan and man the table on Saturday, April 19, on the grounds of the Unitarian Universalist Church. Contact David Wright, if you would like to assist with this. ##### Fore Warning!!!

The Winston-Salem Section Scholarship Golf Tournament is scheduled for Thursday, May 8, 2008. Mark your calendar! We provided two $2000 scholarships at UNCC and NCSU for area architecture students last year. Help us continue this commitment. More details coming soon.
